The World's Longest-Running Dermatology Congress

1889–
2015

Taking place once every 4 years, the history of the WCD dates back 125 years to the first international dermatology congress that was held in Paris in 1889. The latest WCD held in North America was the 1992 Congress in New York City. In 2015 the Canadian Dermatology Association will also be celebrating its 90th anniversary during the Vancouver WCD.
