Merry Christmas and a Happy New 2015!

I am glad to be able to invite you to read a Debate paper by Hanna Norsted regarding a gender issue and also the following interview she made with 4 female researchers.

It is also an impressive number of various dissertations recently made. The Nordic countries are certainly active in various areas of dermato-venereology. In addition to the dissertations presented here, together with this issue a supplement is included, with a full dissertation that will be defended in the beginning of next year. We wish Anette Bygum all success.

Also in this issue there are several Meeting reports and I hope you enjoy being updated even if you have had no possibility to attend the meetings/congresses yourself.

On page 76 there is a Quiz which hopefully will urge you to test yourself. Can you find out the diagnosis without looking at the answer?

Finally some forthcoming events are announced: Make notes in your calendar.

New from this issue is that we have received help from some of the pharmaceutical companies to be able to produce Forum for Nordic Dermato-Venereology without costs for the dermato-venereological societies. We gratefully acknowledge their assistance!

Wish you all a pleasant reading!
