

Fig. S2. Clinical presentation of the patient at the age of 5 years. (a) Characteristic features of the chronic phase of skin lesions in Rothmund-Thomson syndrome with poikiloderma predominantly affecting the face and (b) extensor surfaces of the extremities. The photographs are provided courtesy of the patient.